TREND OF VEINS, NOT CROP-PINGS, INFLUENCED HIM.

(Special to The Herald.)

Goldfield, Nev., June 11.-William Scallon, who succeeded the late Marcus Daly as president of the Anaconda Copper company, and who until recently was the representative in the western country for the Amalgamated Copper company, has just purchased fourteen claims in the Pullfage district part in Tonopah.

In the Bullfreg country they have simply observed the trend of the ledges, and seeing that the croppings point in the direction of the town of Bullfreg. they have bought ground that extends from the base of the mountain for a distance of 10,000 feet through the town of Bullfrog. They are going to sink shatfs at spots already selected by them, and are cock sure they will, at a depth of from 500 to 700 feet, tap the ledges. The ledges in evidence on Bonanza mountain, in their opinion, do not stop at the base of the mountain, but extend out into the desert, and on and through the town of Bullfrog.

Will Undermine the Town.

If the work of mining planned by Mr. callon progresses as fast as intended, then the town of Builfrog which now consists of a townsite and several hun-dred stores, tents and dwellings, will alles of underground workings in a short period.

In Tonopah the North Star company, whose property is situated on the desert, found it necessary to go to a depth of about 800 feet before encountering of about 800 feet before encountering the lode. The Tonopah Midway sunk about 200 feet before reaching the lode. The Tonopah Extension encountered the lode at a depth of about 250 feet. The Golden Anchor Mining campany encountered the lode at a bout 800 feet. The Pittsburg of Tonopah reached a depth of 1,000 feet before its engineers were rewarded. None of these properties are located on mountains. At only one point in the Tonopah district has the lode porphyry outcropped or appeared at the surface, and this outcrop covers an area of only about fifty acres. At this point the original discovery was made.

mine of Goldfield, and secretary of the Gibraltar Mines Syndicate, said today: bodies of exceptionally high grade. The ledge on the Montgomery-Shoshone is over 100 feet wide, and may be 3,000 feet while several well known mining engineers of the district place it as high as $150 a ton. Ore assaying $500 a ton has been found on the surface of the Gibraltar, and there are half a dozen other properties where the showings are as good or better."

Rhyolite and Surroundings.

The town of Rhyolite, situated on the desert about a mile from the town of Bullfrog, and lying about midway between Bonanza mountain and Ladd and Montgomery mountain, is said to have great possibilities for the making of a number of good mines. The ledges on Bonanza mountain do not run in the direction of the townsite of Rhyolite, but those of Monigomery mountain point directly toward and through it, and so do those of Ladd mountain.

On Ladd mountain is situated the famous Bullfrog National bank property, which has a ledge uncovered 124 feet wide, and points in the direction of the north half of the town. Elliott, Cushman and Busch, three young men who made and lost fortunes during the excitement at Tonopah, and later in the early days of Goldfield, bought the claims on which the townsite of Rhyolite is situated, and have already cleared a quarter of a million dollars from the sale of lots.

Having disposed by contract of most of the surface rights, these men are now turning their attention to the disposition of the mineral rights, and Mr. Elliott reports that the price of $500,000 has been put on the mineral rights of the fifteen claims which comprise the townsite. In the present state of excitemen over the Bullfrog district, it is believed that they will not have to wait lengt for a nurchaser.

believed that they will not have to wait long for a purchaser.

Why Camp's Discovery Was Tardy. Mining men who are pouring into the Bullfrog district via Goldfield are discussing the question of why the great Bullfrog district was not discovered before. It is pointed out that the district lies within 220 miles of the famous Comstock lode which was discovered in 1858, and since then the camps of Reveille. Be Lamar. "'Gold is where you find it' is an old adage which is being proven truly nearly every day in Nevada this year. The latest strike reported is in Spring Valley canyon, about twenty miles southeast of Lovelock. Two prospectors from Cripple Creek have been in the canyon for a month or more hunting for the mother lode from which the rich placer ground of the valley had been washed down.

Judge Ferdinand Erickson expressed him-self upon this matter as follows: "The court feels called upon, before the adjournment of this term, to make some comment upon the official report recently submitted by the county attor-

"Again the report says: "The judges of election in all the precincts say that they have no reason to suspect any one or more of their number, from anything that was said or done during the counting of the ballots or at any time, of the tampering in any way with the ballots, and we are unable to get a scintilla of evidence that would indicate that the judges of election in any of the said precincts tampered with the ballots." We nave been unable to get any evidence whatever up to date that points to the guilt of any particular person or persons"; and then in the next sentence he says he has requested the judge to call a grand jury to fully investigate the matter. Investigate what, pray? When the officers whose duty it is to ferret out crime and produce evidence before the grand jury say they are unable to get any evidence whatever that points to the guilt of any particular person or persons, and not a scintilla of evidence that would indicate that the judges of election in any of the precincts tampered with the ballots? Under the iaw it requires more positive evidence to warrant a grand jury in presenting an indictment against a person than would be necessary to warrant a magistrate to hold him to answer to the district court. The grand jury can indict only when all the evidence before them, taken together, if unexplained or uncontradicted would, in their judgment, warrant a conviction by a trial jury; whilst a committing magistrate can order a defendant held to answer to the district court when it appears to him from the examination that a public ofcompleted.

Bullfrog, it is stated, would never have been discovered but for Goldfield, which lies seventy miles to the north, and Goldfield would never have been known to the world but for Tonopah, which lies thirty miles north of Goldfield.

Discoveries at Bullfrog have given an impetus to prospectors, and hundreds are outfitting for prospecting trips across the great Raiston desert and Death valley, southeast and southwest.
